Keeping up with the tradition of the MAMC PG Course, the 21st Course shall be a comprehensive 4 day course imparting instructional demonstrations of long and short case presentations by experienced faculty with an opportunity for the students to present such cases to seasoned examiners in the faculty. The sessions on musculoskeletal radiology, instruments and implants, orthosis and prosthesis and gross and histology specimens will be useful for the viva voce. For students appearing for DNB examination, the session on ward rounds and research methodology have been incorporated in the course. The organisers shall not be able to provide boarding and lodging and request for refund of registration fees will not be entertained. Lunch and heavy snacks in the morning and tea / coffee shall be included in the registration. Course material shall not be provided and recording of the proceedings is not permitted and the students are advised to actively participate and learn. Kindly download the registration form from MAMC website and fill the form with a recent passport size photograph scanned and attached separately and make payment only by NEFT, details given in the registration form.
